Nervous Prostration Cured by DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

"I am an engineer by trade and the hard work and worry of running a large engine brought on nervous prostration," writes Mr. Chas. F. Dixon, of Arbutle, Colusa, Calif. "A friend recommended Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to me and I bought one bottle; thought that it helped me so continued the use of it until I had taken six bottles. I feel better than ever in my life. Am not a particle nervous, can work hard all day and sleep sound at night. I not only think so but I know that the 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me and therefore I will recommend it to others."

WHITE HOUSE BALL.

The most brilliant, as well as the most interesting, of the social affairs that the capital has seen in years was the "coming-out" ball given last night by the President and Mrs. Roosevelt for their daughter, Miss Alice Roosevelt, which was once the scene of the "coming-out" party of another President's daughter, Miss Nellie Grant.

The rarest and most beautiful flowers from the propagating gardens of the Agricultural department were used, and towering palms, with a bank of maidenhair ferns and Farleyanae ferns at the base, were placed in the recess of each window. Yards of smilax festooned the electric suns and garlanded the crystal chandeliers. Each of the classic pillars was wound with smilax and holly berries. Large plaques of smilax, brightened with red berries, were over each doorway, from which were hung festoons of smilax that extended to the mirrors, partly veiling them.

The ropes of smilax that decorated the mirrors were held in place by cornucopias made of smilax, and carnations in red and white and white narcissus and hyacinths. Under this canopy of bloom the guests were seated with palms, ferns and orchids on one side of the room, while on the other were parties of pink and white roses and white hyacinths. The long mirrors at the ends of the room were backed with green and white and white ferns, and white and white roses in one instance and red and white in another. Hundreds of American Beauty roses were used in vases in the Blue Parlor, where the reception took place, with wreaths of smilax and banked mantels where roses and a wealth of blossoms of all colors made the scene fairylike. Today all these flowers will be sent to the hospitals of Washington to gladden the eyes of the less fortunate.

Some idea of the quantity of flowers and plants used may be gathered from the fact that there were three-quarters of a mile of stringed smilax, 600 roses, 400 carnations, 500 feet of stringed asparagus, 400 spikes of narcissus, 600 hyacinths, 32 pots of azaleas, 1,200 roses and 17 palms. These were aided from the crotons, dracinas, wew palms and maidenhair and other varieties of ferns.

The Marine Band played its choicest and most inspiring numbers of dance music—two-steps, waltzes and other selections. There were 20 dances on the programme, which bore the inscription "January 3, 1902, White House," and will in future be a treasured souvenir to those who were fortunate enough to take part in this event.

Like hostesses in private life, Mrs. Roosevelt presented her daughter, the President being merely one of the interested spectators, mingling with the guests and giving each a cordial handshake. Mrs. Roosevelt stood near the entrance of the Blue Room and wore a beautiful costume of white silk, with flounces of lace looped with mauve orchids.

Miss Alice Roosevelt wore a pretty gown of white chiffon embroidered in white roses. Miss Helen Roosevelt, her cousin, from New York, was gowned in white chiffon over satin, while Miss Helen Cutting, of New York, was becomingly gowned in white lace trimmed in delicate pink rosebuds. Besides these relatives, who are guests at the White House, a company of relatives and close friends of Miss Roosevelt were in the Blue Room early in the evening with the debutante and her mother. These were Miss Christine Roosevelt, daughter of Mrs. Emlen Roosevelt; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson; Mr. James Roosevelt and daughter, Mrs. H. L. Roosevelt; Miss Rhett Roosevelt; Miss Margaret Dix, daughter of Rev. Dr. Dix, of New York; Miss Janet Fish, daughter of Mr. Hamilton Fish; and Miss Jean Reid, daughter of Mr. Whitlaw Reid, of New York, and Mr. John Dix, who are guests of Senator and Mrs. Keau.

Dead but SAT UPRIGHT.—For almost a half hour Thursday evening a dead man sat upright at a table in Montgomery restaurant, Philadelphia, while all around other persons ate and chatted, unconscious that anything was wrong. The man was William Chambers, whose last address was at a lodging house, 413 south Third street.

Heart disease, aggravated by exhaustion, is supposed to have killed him. Chambers entered the eating house at the supper hour with a well-dressed man, who paid for his meal in advance, and left. He took a seat at the end of a table against the wall and ordered a beefsteak. After the food had been served, he took a spoonful and, leaning on his elbow, held it before his mouth. The other diners left the table a moment later without paying any attention to him. After a lapse of time a waiter noticed that the man did not move, and thought he had fallen asleep. He shook Chambers, and found that he was dead.

SAW GHOSTS OF TWELVE WIVES.—James Nicholas Vann, of Goshen, N. Y., who is ninety-six years old and wants to marry again, declared yesterday that Wednesday night the ghosts of his twelve dead wives appeared to him and warned him against any further matrimonial experience. They told him, he declared, that he must never marry again, but must retain in his memory only their past loves. "I have had conversations and experiences with the angels before," Dr. Vann said last night, "and this episode won't switch me off from another attempt at matrimony."

How to Cure Croup.

Mr. R. Gray, who lives near Amelia, Duchess county, N. Y., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine I have ever used. It is a fine children's remedy for croup and never fails to cure." When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. This should be borne in mind and a bottle of the Cough Remedy kept at hand ready for instant use as soon as these symptoms appear. For sale by Richard Gibson, druggist.

Child Worth Millions.

"My child is worth millions to me," says Mrs. Mary Bird of Harrisburg, Pa., "yet I would have lost her by croup had I not purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy by mail. One Minute Cough Cure is a sure cure for croup, croup and throat and lung troubles. An absolutely safe cough which acts immediately. The youngest child can take it with entire safety. It soothes the inflamed membrane and often it helped them. Every family should have a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure handy. At this season especially it may be needed suddenly. For sale by E. S. Leadbetter & Sons.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of ointments in applying liniments into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, which is sold in a 16-ounce bottle, and is distributed by mail. The liquid embodies medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 59 Warren St., N. Y.
